Forecast For East Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 13 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Occasional blustery showers on Saturday, wintry over Derbyshire hills.

Today:
Frequent blustery showers at first over the Derbyshire hills, with snow likely, then occasional blustery showers through Saturday across the region, but also some sunny spells in-between. Showers again wintry over hills. Still rather windy and feeling cold. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers gradually becoming confined to the west with mostly dry conditions in the east, with clear spells developing. Winds continue strong overnight but a touch of frost possible in shelter. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Sunday:
A bright, mostly dry morning but turning cloudy through the afternoon with outbreaks of rain arriving from the west later, clearing during the evening. Breezy and feeling chilly. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Drier, brighter on Monday, becoming less windy. Tuesday, cloudier with some outbreaks of rain, feeling milder. Wednesday, the east probably rather cloudy with some showers. Brighter, mostly dry in west.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.